

Stoke-on-Trent CCG Privacy Notice

At Stoke-on-Trent Clinical Commissioning Group, we are committed to protecting and respecting your privacy.

The Clinical Commissioning Group (CCG) has various roles and responsibilities, but a major part of our work involves making sure that:

- Contracts are in place with local health service providers;
- routine and emergency NHS services are available to patients;
- those services provide high quality care and value for money; and
- paying those services for the care and treatment they have provided.

This is called “commissioning” and is explained in more detail on our website at <https://www.stokeccg.nhs.uk/stoke-governance/policies/commissioning-policies>.

Accurate, timely and relevant information is essential for our work to help us to design and plan current and future health and care services, evidence and review our decisions and manage budgets.

As a commissioning organisation, our purpose is not to provide direct care and so we do not routinely hold or receive information about patients and service users in relation to your care. We do however sometimes hold information from which people can be identified to enable us to fulfil our responsibilities as outlined above and this is explained in this notice.

What is a Privacy Notice?

We respect your right with regards to data privacy and data protection when you communicate (online or offline) with us through our various websites, offline programs and events.

Your Rights

A privacy notice is a statement that describes how Stoke-on-Trent CCG collects, uses, retains and discloses personal information. Different organisations sometimes use different terms and it can be referred to as a privacy statement, a fair processing notice or a privacy policy.

To ensure that we process your personal data fairly and lawfully we are required to inform you:

- Why we need your data
- How it will be used and
- Who it will be shared with

This information also explains what rights you have to control how we use your information.

The law determines how organisations can use personal information. The key laws are: The Data Protection Act 2018 (DPA), the Human Rights Act 1998 (HRA), and the common law duty of confidentiality.

Within these pages we describe instances where Stoke-on-Trent CCG is the “Data Controller”, for the purposes of the Data Protection Act 2018, and where we direct or commission the processing of patient data to help deliver better healthcare, or to assist the management of healthcare services.

Stoke-on-Trent CCG recognises the importance of protecting personal and confidential information in all that we do, all we direct or commission, and takes care to meet its legal duties.

This part of the fair processing notice outlines the management of the notice, contact details and other access to information legislation.

How will Stoke-on-Trent CCG use information about you?

NHS Continuing Healthcare

NHS Continuing Healthcare (CHC) is explained by NHS Choices here.

The National Health Service Commissioning Board and Clinical Commissioning Groups (Responsibilities and Standing Rules) Regulations 2012, Part 6 places a duty on CCGs to make provision for, i.e. provide, CHC services. Stoke-on-Trent CCG commission Midlands and Lancashire Commissioning Support Unit to provide these services on their behalf.

To determine if someone is eligible for CHC and to then arrange a care and support package that meets their assessed needs, information about the individual will need to be collected, reviewed and shared with care providers such as care homes. As the CCG has a duty to provide CHC services, this allows for the collection of information about individuals for this purpose, the use of that information and the sharing of it with third parties who need to be involved in the process; we will make sure that we keep the individual concerned informed at all times of who will be providing or receiving data about them and why.

Sources of the data

The personal data is submitted by the CCG and the applicant for review.

Categories of personal data

The information CCGs use to assess eligibility, and which may be submitted to an Independent Review Panel, fall under the following headings:

- a representative nominated by a Local Authority (not involved in the case); and
- at times there is also a clinical advisor in attendance

Complaints and Enquiries

Most NHS care and treatment goes well but sometimes things can go wrong. If you are unhappy with your care or the service you have received, it is important to let us know so we can improve. When Stoke-on-Trent CCG receive a complaint, to allow it to be fairly and thoroughly managed, in most cases personal information will be required. CCGs have statutory duties (Section 6 of the Local Authority Social Services and National Health Service Complaints [England] Regulations (2009) (under section 113 "Complaints about Healthcare" of the Health and Social Care (Community Health and Standards) Act 2003)) which allow the processing of personal data in relation to complaints.

Stoke-on-Trent CCG commission Midlands and Lancashire Commissioning Support Unit to provide these services on their behalf.

Sources of the data

Stoke-on-Trent CCG will generally collect/receive information when members of the public, their representatives, or Members of Parliament, contact us with concerns or enquiries. To enable us to process a complaint, Stoke-on-Trent CCG will collect the relevant information at the point of contact to ensure the team can provide a sufficient response to the request.

- Relevant providers (with the consent of the data subject) to enable them to fully investigate the complaint being made

Communications & Engagement

Purpose and Legal Basis for Processing

Stoke-on-Trent CCG offers various services to the public giving them the opportunity to engage with us. This could be providing people with the latest news and information from the CCG, opportunities, events and details on how to get involved.

We must hold the details of the people who have requested the service to provide it. However, we only use these details to provide the service the person has requested and for other closely related purposes. For example, we might use information about people who have requested a publication to carry out a survey to find out if they are happy with the level of service they received or if the information is useful to them. We will never ask you to provide any personal data in response to a survey. Any personal data received in responses is removed before responses are collated, analysed or disseminated.

When people do subscribe to our services, they can cancel their subscription at any time and are given an easy way of doing this. Personal data collected for the above purposes is only processed with the explicit consent of the data subject unless it becomes apparent that we are required to process the personal data due to statutory obligations such as investigating a complaint.

Sources of the data

The personal data is provided by data subjects when signing up to receive one of our newsletters either via our website or by completing one of our sign-up forms at one of our stakeholder events we hold from time to time.

Categories of Personal data

We only require you to provide us with your name and email address so that we can send you our publications. Information regarding your gender, sexual orientation, marital status and disabilities is collected so that we can ensure that our patient involvement groups are representative of our population we serve. We may also use it to send you targeted information or news. However, it is not mandatory to provide this information.

Recipients of personal data

The information you provide as a member of one of our patient involvement groups is never shared outside of Stoke-on-Trent CCG.

Individual Funding Requests

The NHS has a duty to spend the money it receives from the Government in a fair way, taking into consideration the health needs of the whole community. The CCGs role is to ensure it gets best value for this money by spending it wisely on behalf of the public.

The CCG pay for local NHS health services and NHS England pays for highly specialised health services. The CCG have a legal duty to provide health services for patients in the county with the fixed amount of money they have received from the Government. They have a legal duty not to spend more than this. This means that some hard choices have to be made. Not all treatments can be provided by the NHS. Treatments that are limited by CCGs are shown in their Clinical Commissioning Policies <https://www.stokeccg.nhs.uk/stoke-governance/policies/commissioning-policies>.

However, the CCG know that there will always be times when a patient would benefit from a particular treatment not usually given by the NHS. To apply for this treatment, an Individual Funding Request is made. To allow the CCG to consider these requests, access to both personal and health information regarding the individual to whom the request relates is required. As the National Health Service Commissioning Board and Clinical Commissioning Groups (Responsibilities and Standing Rules) Regulations 2012, Part 7, Regulation 34 places a duty on CCGs in respect of the funding and commissioning of drugs and other treatments, this provides the CCG with a legal basis to use personal data as part of this process.

Sources of the data

The information may be provided by a clinician who submits an IFR application form on behalf of a patient.

Categories of personal data

The IFR application form includes NHS number, name and address, date of birth, GP details, diagnosis, requested intervention and other information relevant to the request. Gender and ethnicity are also collected and held in anonymous form for equality monitoring.

Categories of recipients

Applications are considered by an independent panel who have not been involved in your treatment. The panel is made up of doctors, nurses, public health experts, pharmacists, NHS England representatives and lay members and is led by a lay chair.

Commissioning – Assuring Transformation

Purpose and Legal Basis for Processing

The Department of Health published 'Transforming Care: A national response to Winterbourne View Hospital and the Concordat: Programme of Action' in December 2012. The purpose of this data collection is to ensure that the public awareness of the NHS commitments in the Winterbourne View Concordat is transparent and robust. By collecting this data, the CCG can achieve the most appropriate outcomes for 'people with a learning disability or autism, who may also have mental health needs or behaviour that challenges'

Under the NHS Act 2006, provision is made for the sharing of patient information that is in the interests of improving patient care or deemed to be in the public interest. This is also referred to as a Section 251 exemption. A Section 251 exemption has been granted for the delivery of Assuring Transformation work programmes. Therefore, our lawful basis for processing is Article 6(1)(e) '...exercise of official authority...'. For special categories (health) data the basis is Article 9(2)(h) '...health or social care...'

Source of Data

Data is received by Stoke-on-Trent CCG from local providers who are providing care to any patient who has 'any status under the Mental Health Act (informal or detained).'

Categories of Personal Data

The Assuring Transformation Programme relies upon collecting healthcare information such as NHS number and information relating to a patient's current treatment; such as how long they have been in hospital for, when their care and treatment is assessed and what kind of hospital they are in. Additional information such as any levels of security assigned to an individual (general/low/medium/high) currently in care as well as their status under the Mental Health Act (informal or detained) is also collected.

Recipients of Personal Data

Data collected for this purpose is then shared with NHS Digital.

Risk Stratification

Health care commissioners need information about the treatment of patients to review and plan current and future health care services. To do this they need to be able to see information about the health care provided to patients which can include patient level data.

The law says commissioners are not allowed to access Personal Confidential Data (PCD) because they are not providing direct patient care. As such, they need an intermediary service called Data Services for Commissioners Regional Office (DSRCO), that specialise in processing, analysing and packaging patient information within a secure environment, into a format that commissioners can legally use; anonymised patient level data. You can find more comprehensive information about this on the NHS Digital Website.

NHS Digital, formally known as HSCIC, can disseminate data to commissioners under the Health and Social Care Act (2012). The act provides the powers for NHS Digital to collect, analyse and disseminate national data and statistical information. To access this data organisations must submit an application and demonstrate that they meet the appropriate governance and security requirements. For GDPR purposes Stoke-on-Trent CCG's lawful basis for processing is Article 6(1)(e) '...exercise of official authority...'. For special categories (health) data the basis is Article 9(2)(h) '...health or social care...'

NHS Digital, through its Data Services for Commissioners Regional Offices (DSCROs), is permitted to collect, hold and process Personal Confidential Data (PCD). This is for purposes beyond direct patient care to support NHS commissioning organisations and the commissioning functions within local authorities

GPs are able to identify individual patients from the risk stratified data when it is necessary to discuss the outcome and consider preventative care, however the CCG can never identify an individual from the risk stratified data that we see. Where the risk stratification process has linked GP data to health data obtained from other sources i.e. NHS Digital or other health care provider, the GP will ask for your permission to access the details of that information.

Sources of the data

Personal data is supplied by GPs and NHS Digital (commissioning data sets)

Categories of Personal data

Risk stratification tools use historic information about patients, such as age, gender, diagnoses and patterns of hospital attendance and admission collected by NHS Digital from NHS hospitals and community care services (Secondary Use Services data). This is linked to data collected in GP practices and analysed to produce a risk score.

The Secondary Uses Service (SUS) is the single, comprehensive repository for healthcare data in England which enables a range of reporting and analyses to support the NHS in the delivery of healthcare services. Information on care provided for all patients by Health Care Providers (both NHS and Independent Sector Healthcare Providers for NHS patients only) must be submitted to the Secondary Uses Service according to the Commissioning Data Set Mandated Data Flows guidelines.

Data from the GP Practice system will be obtained by using a "bulk data extract", uploaded directly by the risk stratification tool supplier from the practice system. Prior to the upload, the supplier will obtain permission from the practice to request the data from the practice system provider and the practice will notify their system providers that this permission has been granted.

The data extract will exclude patients who have expressed a wish not to share information. Reports produced from the system including identifiable data is only provided back to your GP or member of your care team as data controller in an identifiable form. Your GP can provide more information about any risk stratification programme they are using. Should you have any concerns about how your information is managed at the surgery please contact the Practice Manager at your surgery to discuss how the disclosure of your personal information can be limited.

Recipients of personal data

The combined CCGs Secondary Use Service (SUS) data and GP data which contains an identifier (usually NHS number) is made available to clinicians with a legitimate relationship with their patients to enable them to identify which patients should be offered targeted preventative support to reduce those risks. Stoke on Trent CCG does not have access to identifiable information.

Safeguarding

Purpose and legal basis for processing

Stoke-on-Trent CCG is dedicated in ensuring that the principles and duties of safeguarding adults and children are holistically, consistently and conscientiously applied with the wellbeing of all, at the heart of what we do.

Our Legal basis for processing for the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) purposes is Article 6(1)(e) ‘...exercise of official authority...’. For the processing of special categories data, the basis is Article 9(2)(b) – ‘processing is necessary for the purposes of carrying out the obligations and exercising specific rights of the controller or of the data subject in the field of employment and social security and social protection law...’

Categories of personal data

The data collected by Stoke-on-Trent CCG staff including its hosted bodies in the event of a safeguarding situation will be as much personal information as is necessary or possible to obtain to handle the situation. In addition to some basic demographics and contact details, this is likely to be special category information (such as health information).

Sources of the data

Stoke-on-Trent CCG will either receive or collect information when someone contacts the organisation with safeguarding concerns or we believe there may be safeguarding concerns.

Recipients of personal data

The information is used by Stoke-on-Trent CCG when handling a safeguarding incident or concern. We may share information accordingly to ensure duty of care and investigation as required with other partners such as Local Authorities, the Police, healthcare professional (i.e. their GP or mental health team).

Medicines Optimisation/Management

Purpose and legal basis for processing

Stoke-on-Trent CCG has a duty to secure continuous improvement in the quality of services provided to individuals for or in connection with the prevention, diagnosis or treatment of illness. Taking that into account, The Medicines Management Team supports the CCG with commissioning services that make best use of available medicines. Your personal data will be used to fulfil this duty in respect of promoting cost-effective use of medicines as well as implementing projects or actions to optimise the use of medicines to improve outcomes, enhance patient safety and improve capacity within the local health economy.

Under GDPR, we rely upon “Article 6(1)(e) “processing is necessary for the performance of a task carried out in the public interest or in the exercise of official authority vested in the controller.”

For the special categories of data, Article 9(2)(h) “processing is necessary for the purposes of preventive or occupational medicine... and subject to the conditions and safeguards referred to in paragraph 3.

Source of Data

Data used to fulfil the above duties is received directly from the primary and secondary healthcare providers for which the CCG has responsibility for.

Categories of Data

Typically, clinicians and pharmacists will require access to patient information including NHS Numbers and medication lists.

Recipients of Personal Data

Personal data is shared between the CCG and local healthcare providers including GP Practices. They do this to facilitate the implementation of recommendations by the Medicines Management Team.

e-Referral Services

Purposes and legal basis for processing

Stoke-on-Trent CCG ensures that arrangements are in place for patients to be offered an outpatient appointment which best suits their needs; including time, date and location. Patients contact the Choice and Referral team following an appointment with a potential referrer; such as a GP. The aim is to ensure consistency with only appropriate referrals, as set out by the relevant CCG policy, proceeding to provider services to reduce inappropriate activity.

Under GDPR, the legal basis for processing e-Referral Services data is Article 6(1)(c) ‘processing necessary for compliance with a legal obligation to which the controller is subject or 6(1)(e) ‘the processing is necessary for the performance of a task carried out in the public interest or in the exercise of official authority vested in the controller.’ For special categories (health) data the basis is Article 9(2)(h) ‘...health or social care...’.

Categories of personal data

Typically, referrals received by the CCG contain the name, address, contact number, NHS Number and unique booking reference number. Clinical data relating to the condition and any other relevant conditions, and referral information relating to the request may also be processed to ensure the correct referral pathway is adhered to.

Sources of the data

Typically, data is supplied to the CCG from local referrers, such as GPs, Optometrists and Community staff. Data subjects or their representatives may also contact the CCG to arrange their referral.

Recipients of personal data

All information held by the CCG will only be for the purposes of processing a referral or to pass on for further triage. Subsequent sharing of data may flow to and from GP practices, the Booking and Choice Triage Service, the Information Funding Request Panel and Acute or Community Providers.

Quality

Purpose and basis for processing

Stoke-on-Trent CCG has a duty to the improvement of quality and delivery of services and uses incident events, investigation, evidence and reports relating to incidents under various policy and procedural structures. The legal basis we rely on under GDPR is Article 6(1)(e) “processing is necessary for the performance of a task carried out in the public interest or in the exercise of official authority vested in the controller.” For the special categories of data, we rely on Article 9(2)(h) “processing is necessary for the purposes of...the provision of health or social care or treatment”

An incident requiring investigation is defined as an incident that occurred in relation to NHS funded services and care resulting in unexpected or avoidable death, harm or injury to patient, carer, staff or visitor. To enable us to promote quality and compliance, Stoke-on-Trent CCG has several reporting protocols for incidents and provides investigation and learning to improve systems and services they commission.

Categories of personal data

NHS Number and other personal details, including relevant healthcare records and information about the incident, including others involved or impacted by the event are used by the CCG to facilitate incident investigations.

Sources of the data

Data received to fulfil the duties relating to incident investigation will be received directly from the reporting organisation, such as a GP practice or provider.

Recipient of personal data

Information relating to outcomes will be sent back to the relevant providers.

How we use information provided by NHS Digital

We use information collected by NHS Digital from healthcare providers such as hospitals, community services and GPs, which includes information about the patients who have received care and treatment from the services that we fund.

The data we receive does not include patients' names or home addresses, but it will usually include information such as your NHS number, postcode, date of birth, ethnicity and gender as well as coded information about your visits to clinics, Emergency Department, hospital admissions and other NHS services.

The Secretary of State for Health has given limited permission for us (and other NHS commissioners) to use certain confidential patient information when it is necessary for our work and unless we have a legal basis to use identifiable data, de-identified information is used for all purposes other than direct care. This approval is given under Regulations made under Section 251 of the NHS Act 2006 and is based on the advice of the Health Research Authority's Confidentiality and Advisory Group.

In order to use this data, we have to meet strict conditions that we are legally required to follow, which includes making a written commitment to NHS Digital that we will not use information in any way that would reveal your identity.

Children's Information

We do not provide services directly to children or proactively collect their personal information. However, we are sometimes given information about children while handling a complaint or conducting an investigation. The information in the relevant parts of this notice applies to children as well as adults.

Automated Decision Making

Stoke-on-Trent CCG does not use automated individual decision-making (making a decision solely by automated means without any human involvement).

Retaining information

Information in the CCG is held for a specific length of time depending on the type of information it is. The length of time we retain your information for is defined by the NHS retention schedule which can be viewed online here: NHS Digital Records Management Code of Practice for Health and Social Care 2016

Once information has been reviewed and is no longer required to be kept by a retention period the information will be securely destroyed.

Security of your information

Stoke-on-Trent CCG take our duty to protect your personal information and confidentiality seriously. We are committed to taking all reasonable measures to ensure the confidentiality and security of personal data for which we are responsible, whether computerised or on paper.

Alongside the Data Protection Officer (DPO), we have appointed a Senior Information Risk Owner (SIRO) who is accountable for the management of all information assets and any associated risks and incidents, and a 'Caldicott Guardian' who is responsible for the management of patient information and patient confidentiality and acts as the 'conscience' of the organisation.

All staff are required to undertake annual information governance training and are provided with an information governance handbook that they are required to read and agree to adhere to. The handbook ensures that staff are aware of their information governance responsibilities and follow best practice guidelines ensuring the necessary safeguards and appropriate use of person-identifiable and confidential information.

Under the NHS Confidentiality Code of Conduct, all our staff are also required to protect your information and inform you of how your information will be used. This includes, in most circumstances, allowing you to decide if and how your information can be shared.

Everyone working for the NHS is subject to the common law duty of confidentiality. Information provided in confidence will only be used for the purposes advised and consented to by the service user, unless it is required or permitted by the law.

2. The right of access
3. The right to rectification
4. The right to erasure
5. The right to restrict processing
6. The right to data portability
7. The right to object
8. Rights in relation to automated decision making and profiling
9. The right to withdraw consent

The right to be informed

You have the right to be informed about the collection and use of your personal data. This privacy notice is one of Stoke-on-Trent CCG's key methods for providing you with this information. In addition to this notice, we will provide you with more specific information at the time we collect personal data from you, such as when you apply for Continuing Healthcare or make a complaint to us.

The right of access

You have the right to ask us for confirmation of whether we process data about you and if we do, to have access to that data so you are aware and can verify the lawfulness of the processing.

You can make your own application to see the information we hold about you, or you can authorise someone else to make an application on your behalf. A child's parent or guardian, a patient representative, or a person appointed by the Court may also apply. If you wish to ask us for confirmation of whether we process data about you or access your personal data, then please contact:

Governance Lead
Stoke-on-Trent CCG
Smithfield One Building
Stoke-on-Trent
ST1 4FA

The right to rectification

You are entitled to have personal data that we hold about you rectified if it is inaccurate or incomplete. If we have passed the data concerned on to others, we will contact each recipient and inform them of the rectification - unless this proves impossible or involves disproportionate effort. If this is the case, we will explain to you why.

The right to erasure

You have the right to have personal data we hold about you erased and to prevent processing in specific circumstances:

- Where the personal data is no longer necessary in relation to the purpose for which it was originally collected/processed.
- If you withdraw your consent for us to process your data (if this was the basis on which it was collected).
- The personal data was unlawfully processed (i.e. a breach of UK data protection laws).
- The personal data has to be erased in order to comply with a legal obligation.

However, if we have collected and are processing data about you to comply with a legal obligation for the performance of a public interest task or exercise of official authority, i.e. because we have a legal duty to do so in our functioning as a CCG, then the right to erasure does not apply.

The right to restrict processing

You have the right to 'block' or suppress processing of your personal data which means that if you exercise this right, we can still store your data but not to further process it and will retain just enough information about you to ensure that the restriction is respected in future.

You can ask us to restrict the processing of your personal data in the following circumstances:

- If you contest the accuracy of the data, we hold about you we will restrict the processing until the accuracy of the data has been verified
- If we are processing your data as it is necessary for the performance of a public interest task and you have objected to the processing, we will restrict processing while we consider whether our legitimate grounds for processing are overriding
- If the processing of your personal data is found to be unlawful but you oppose erasure and request restriction instead
- If we no longer need the data we hold about you, but you require the data to establish, exercise or defend a legal claim

If we have disclosed the personal data in question to others, we will contact each recipient and inform them of the restriction on the processing of the personal data - unless this proves impossible or involves disproportionate effort. If asked to, we will also inform you about these recipients.

We will inform you if we decide to lift a restriction on processing.

The right to data portability

The right to data portability allows you to obtain and reuse your personal data for your own purposes across different services. It allows you to move, copy or transfer personal data easily from one IT environment to another in a safe and secure way, without hindrance to usability although it only applies where we are processing your personal data based on your consent for us to do so or for the performance of a contract and where the processing is carried out by automated means. This means that currently, the CCG does not hold any data which would be subject to the right to data portability.

The right to object

Where the CCG processes personal data about you on the basis of being required to do so for the performance of a task in the public interest/exercise of official authority, you have a right to object to the processing.

You must have an objection on grounds relating to your particular situation.

If you raise an objection, we will no longer process the personal data we can demonstrate compelling legitimate grounds for the processing which override your interests, rights and freedoms or the processing is for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims.

Rights in relation to automated decision making and profiling

As the CCG does not make any decisions based solely on automated processing, individuals' rights in relation to personal data processed in this way are not applicable.

The right to withdraw consent
